

Commercial Warranty for the HTF7250G Engine

Original Equipment Engines

Honeywell warrants to the purchaser that each HTF7250G Engine sold for installation as original equipment on new aircraft will at time of delivery be free from defects in material and workmanship and will be of the kind and type specified. Warranty shall run to the original purchaser, its successors and assigns. This warranty shall expire seventy-eight (78) months from the date of shipment by Honeywell or sixty (60) months following interior completion and entry into service or three thousand (3000) Engine operating hours whichever occurs first.

Definitions

As used herein, the following words and phrases have the following meanings:

1. "Honeywell" means Honeywell through its Propulsion Engines business.
2. "Owner" means the owner of the aircraft registered with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) or its equivalent in which the Engine is installed at time of warranty claim, or the legal owner of the Honeywell Engine.
3. "Engine" means a new HTF7250G Engine delivered for commercial use.
4. "Commercial Use" means the operation of the Engines in aircraft licensed by FAA or its equivalent for general civilian and routine commercial use excluding aerial dusting and spraying and any other type of flying requiring special authorization or dispensation by FAA or its equivalent.
5. "Initial Operation" means the first running of the Engine after obtaining a certificate of airworthiness on the aircraft. "Initial Operation" of a new spare Engine means the first running of the spare Engine after installation on the aircraft.
6. "Engine Operating Hours" means the total number of engine hours.
7. "Failure" or "Malfunction" in an Engine or part means breakage or inability to function properly in a manner for which it was designed and as a serviceable engine in accordance with the Engine Maintenance Manual.
8. "Parts" means only those parts of the Engine which are delivered, repaired or replaced by Honeywell or their Authorized Representative as identified in the appropriate Illustrated Parts Catalog (IPC).

Responsibility of Honeywell – Original Equipment and Spare Engines

1. If an engine or part is returned to Honeywell or an Authorized Service Center in accordance with the provisions of this warranty and is found in the sole discretion of Honeywell to contain a defect in material or workmanship covered by this warranty, Honeywell shall provide the following at no charge to the Owner:
 - a. Repair or replacement, in Honeywell's discretion, of the Part with a new, repaired, refurbished, or overhauled part.
 - b. Engine Access Labor
 - c. Engine Removal and Reinstallation Labor
 - d. Troubleshooting Labor
 - e. Rental Engine associated with Unscheduled Heavy Maintenance
 - f. Engine accessory removal and replacement labor
 - g. Freight – Reasonable Freight charges to the nearest Honeywell authorized representative.

*Based on Honeywell guidelines.

2. A part covered by the terms of this warranty shall be considered for coverage if damaged as a result of the failure of another part covered by the terms of this warranty.

3. The correction of any failure or malfunction shall in no way extend the period of this warranty.
4. When Honeywell replaces any Engine or Part, the Part removed shall become the property of Honeywell.
5. Honeywell reserves the right to make changes in the design and to add improvements without incurring any obligation to incorporate the same on other engines or parts sold by Honeywell.

New Spare Parts for Engines

Honeywell warrants that new spare parts sold for installation in Engines will at time of delivery be free from defects in material, workmanship and title and will be of the kind and type specified. Warranty shall run to the original purchaser, its successors, assigns and consists of repair, refurbishment or replacement of the failed part. This warranty shall expire twenty-four (24) months from the date of shipment by Honeywell or twelve (12) months or one thousand (1000) engine hours from date of installation of the new spare part in Engine, whichever first occurs. However, the warranty for parts replaced under the Engine warranty shall not extend beyond the date of expiration of the warranty for the given Engine.

Repaired Parts for Engines

Honeywell warrants that repaired, overhauled or refurbished Parts sold for installation in Engines and provided through Honeywell, will at time of delivery, be free of defects in material and workmanship and will be of the kind and type specified. Warranty shall run to the original purchaser, its successors and assigns, and consists of repair, refurbishment, or replacement of the failed Part. This warranty shall expire twenty four (24) months from the date of shipment by Honeywell, twelve (12) months from date of installation or one thousand (1000) operating hours whichever occurs first. Additionally, a repaired Part that is replaced during the Original Equipment warranty period shall be warranted for the remainder of the original equipment warranty or the repaired Part warranty, whichever is longer.

Responsibility of Owner

The following conditions govern the application of each of the warranties described above for Original Equipment Engine, New Spare Engine, New Spare Parts for Engines and Repaired Parts for Engines:

1. Owner shall assure that records are maintained which will accurately reflect Engine operating hours and date and extent of maintenance performed. At Honeywell's request, such record shall be provided to substantiate any warranty claim.
2. This Warranty will not apply if the Engine has been subjected to:
 - a. Any maintenance, overhaul, installation, storage, operation, or use, which is not in accordance with Honeywell's instructions; or
 - b. Any alteration or repair by anyone other than Honeywell or its authorized representatives or
 - c. Any accident, misuse, neglect, or negligence after delivery by Honeywell; or
 - d. Any tests other than normal production flight tests, unless Honeywell grants prior written approval; or
 - e. Ingestion of foreign material; or
 - f. Any other cause not within the control of Honeywell.
3. Owner must notify Honeywell or its representative of a failure within 30 days following the failure and return of the engine or part for repair or replacement within thirty (30) days following such notice.
4. Owner is responsible for scheduled and unscheduled routine maintenance and inspection including, but not limited to: Disassembly; assembly; cleaning; inspection; replacement of consumable hardware such as gaskets, filters, packings, igniter plugs, nuts bolts, etc. Minor repairs for cracks, nicks, dents; and all other repair effort required as a result of normal wear and tear is the responsibility of the owner and are specifically excluded from this warranty.

5. The Operator shall ensure all removed, unserviceable engine units are shipped to Honeywell or its representative within 5 days after receipt of a serviceable rental or exchange engine unit. Failure by Operator to return a rental engine to Honeywell or its representative within 15 days after Operator's removed engine has been repaired and returned in a serviceable condition shall subject operator to the then current engine rental rate and late return charges.
