Q. Where can I install Jetwave X?

- A. JWx will be available through OEMs and channel partners in 2026. Talk with your Honeywell channel partner today to plan your JetWave X install.

Q. Where is JetWave X covered?

- A. JetWave X has true global coverage enabling connectivity anywhere you fly.

Q. How fast is JetWave X?

- A. JetWave X offers impressive speeds, delivering download rates up to 200 Mbps, which is up to 10 times faster than first-generation satcom systems. This high-speed consistent connectivity ensures that passengers can enjoy activities like videoconferencing and streaming.

Q. Which Networks are Supported?

- A. JWx will be the first system to harness the complete Viasat Ka network, including the powerful new generation ViaSat-3 satellites, the existing Global Xpress (GX) satellites, and future planned ViaSat GX7/8/9 satellites.

Q. What types of connectivity packages are available?

- A. JetWave X offers a variety of flexible service packages. Choose from a variety of service packages tailored to your needs, including Regional, Global, and Unlimited, and new experience plans, ensuring you have the right plan for your operations.

Q. What is the upgrade path from JetWave-to-JetWave X?

- A. The upgrade path from JetWave-to-JetWave X is designed to be straightforward and efficient. For existing JetWave users, the transition to JetWave X involves only minor structural and wiring mounting. This ensures minimal downtime and disruption, allowing users to quickly benefit from the enhanced capabilities of JetWave X, such as faster download speeds, advanced connectivity, and proven architecture.
