Honeywell

ABOUT JETWAVE X

JetWave set the standard for high-speed, ultra-reliable Ka-band satellite communications from the moment it was launched in 2017. Now we're taking things to a whole new level with JetWave X, the X-Factor you need to turn your business jet into the ultimate productivity machine.

WHAT MAKES JETWAVE X SO GOOD?

JetWave X is a multi-network-ready satellite communications system. JetWave X will connect seamlessly to the proven Inmarsat Global Xpress network, the new ViaSat 3 network entering service in 2025 and future Ka-band satellite constellations. JetWave X delivers the best available connected-aircraft experience because it lets you switch easily and automatically between networks and services to take advantage of better connections or rates. Only JetWave X will be ready to connect to ViaSat 3 from Day 1, providing you with consistent uninterrupted connectivity anywhere you fly. quality and continuity.
