THE POWER OF CONNECTED

GoDirect™ Media

Stream Television on your Aircraft – Anytime and Anywhere

Today's passengers expect office and home equivalent connectivity whenever and wherever they fly. That means staying in touch with breaking news, watching a movie or catching your favorite team in the big game.

GoDirect™ Media keeps aircraft passengers connected and entertained with satellite television coverage all across the world.

Honeywell provides this television coverage as part of GoDirect Cabin services, which can be accessed and controlled with a single sign-on source for support. Services are available in high definition and can be customized to match customer's preference for hardware and solutions.

Streaming Across the Globe

Streaming television doesn't have to be limited to the geographical region. Program options now extend coverage across the world so you can stay connected anywhere you fly. Enjoy uninterrupted streaming no matter what country is your final destination.

Delivering Media at a Lower Cost

New tools from GoDirect let operators control the amount of bandwidth that streaming video consumes, enabling them to use less expensive data plans while still delivering quality video conferencing and entertainment to the aircraft cabin. Using these tools operators can gain control of connectivity services and usage, saving up to $100,000 per aircraft annually.

Programs to Match your Preferences

Programming available from various providers including: DIRECTV, BeIN Sports, JetStream, Free to Air Satellite TV programming, and more. Below is a summary of the GoDirect Media programs that are available.

JetStream

JetStream is a full-service media hosting solution designed for aviation. This platform delivers live access to the TV services of your choice – from anywhere in the world. The service is accessed by visiting live.Jetstream.mc.

IPTV

Internet protocol television (IPTV) is different from traditional delivery through traditional satellite and cable television formats. As a result, a client media player can begin playing the content (such as a TV channel) almost immediately. This is known as streaming media.

Here's what you can Start Watching:

- Amazon Prime TV
- HBO Now
